WOMAN BOUND TO GRAND JURY IN SHOOTING

Arrested After Ex-Husband Is Wounded in Quarrel Over Child.

Mrs. Alice Helen Oglesbee, 23-year-old divorcee, of 530 Polk street is free on $1,000 bond today after pleading not guilty this morning to the Sunday night shooting of her 24-year-old ex-husband, Richard Oglesbee, 24, of 561 Tyler street.

Mrs. Oglesbee was charged by police with pointing and discharging a firearm without malice, and she has pleaded not guilty to the charge.

When arraigned this morning before Judge Hazen Mrs. Oglesbee waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond which was posted by her father, Martin Jones, for her release.

Mrs. Oglesbee has been in a highly nervous condition, suffering frequent attacks of hysterics ever since she was brought to city jail by police at 4:20 p. m. yesterday, police said.

Her account of the shooting as pieced together by police is as follows:

She was divorced from Richard Oglesbee last November but he had been given permission by court order to have temporary custody of their 16-month-old daughter from 3 p. m. to 6 p. m. each Sunday. She says that he arrived at 4 p. m. at the home of her father, Martin Jones of 530 Polk street, where she and the child had been living. He became abusive she said when upon his arrival the baby was not ready for travel.

Account of Woman's Father

Police say that Martin Jones told them he was in the back yard of his home when he heard an altercation between his daughter and her ex-husband. He entered the house and quieted the argument temporarily then returned to the back yard.

Mrs. Oglesbee then prepared the baby for its father to take with him but she says he continued to be insulting and abusive and threatened not only to not return the baby at 6 p. m. but to not return the baby to its mother at all.

She says she then entered her father's bedroom and returned with his .38 calibre pistol and while handing the baby to Oglesbee she shot him through the left side.

Taken To Hospital

Oglesbee was removed to City hospital in the Hughes Ambulance where his condition is reported by his attending physician as "fair." Doctors report the bullet entered Oglesbee's chest just missing the left side of his heart, penetrated his back and left his body. The principals in the case are Negroes.

No charges have as yet been filed against Mrs. Oglesbee by police. Attempts by police and by her attorney, Carter Patton, to secure further information of the shooting have met with little success because of her overwrought condition.

A police spokesman said today that a full interrogation of Mrs. Oglesbee would be made as soon as her physicial and nervous condition had improved sufficiently for her to give a more detailed account of the incident. A full scale investigation of the shooting is now in progress by police, Chief William E. Marks said.

RAILWAYS FACE STRIKE THREAT

Cooling-off Period Ends Tonight as Unions' Agreement Is Sought.

By The United Press

CHICAGO, April 26 — The threat of a nationwide railroad strike hung over the country today.

A 30-day cooling-off period ends at midnight tonight. Three unions representing 150,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen can strike legally at any time beginning tomorrow.

They have warned that if no agreement is reached on their demands by midnight, they will set a date for the strike to commence.

Representatives of the railroads and the unions said today that negotiations were continuing but neither side would say that they were optimistic.

Weekend Deliberations

J. P. Shields, assistant grand chief of the engineers brotherhood and spokesman for the unions, said negotiations had been held throughout the weekend.

"We are still meeting," he said. "We're not saying anything else at this time."

A strike by the three unions would halt almost all freight and passenger service throughout the nation even if other railroad unions decided to cross the strikers' picket line.

The railroad unions are traditionally loyal to each other and there is a possibility that members of non-striking unions might refuse to pass the pickers even though such action might be considered a secondary boycott.

Wage, Hour Demands

The unions demanded a 30 per cent wage increase with a $3 minimum increase for a basic work day. They also demanded 44 changes in working rules, many of which would reduce the number of hours worked.

They rejected a presidential fact-finding board's recommendation for a 15½ cent an hour increase, the same boost proposed by the railroads.

The railroads also proposed 25 changes in working rules. A railroad spokesman said today that the management offer was retroactive to Nov. 1.

"This is a mighty attractive selling point and the men would do well to consider that they might lose this if they strike," he said. "On the other hand, it's possible that they could win even more."

PROMPT JERUSALEM SAFETY VOTED BY UN

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, April 26—The United Nations assembly today moved for immediate action to protect Jerusalem. The action was taken by 46 to 0 ballot in an emergency sitting of the assembly in plenary session.

The assembly proper was in session only five minutes. It approved a French-Swedish request calling on the trusteeship council to devise immediate plans to safeguard the Holy City and its inhabitants.

The same 58 delegates sat as the plenary assembly just after the political committee had accepted the plan. 44 to 3. Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and White Russia voted in opposition in committee on the grounds that the assembly itself should institute the measures. In the final assembly vote, Russia abstained.

FORRESTAL SPEAKS FOR 66-AIR FORCE

Says It's OK if Budget Is To Be Limited.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 26—Secretary Forrestal said today a 66-group air force would give the United States "the best military results if our budget is to be limited." He added he has decided military spending should be limited.

The secretary of defense testified to a senate appropriations subcommittee in a new round of congressional hearings on the 66 to 70 group air force controversy.

Forrestal said "as a military matter" both he and the joint chiefs of staff would support a 70-group force, but that factors other than military also must be considered.

He went on: "After taking into account all considerations—fiscal, economic and all others, as well as military—I have reached the conclusion that an overall program for the services calling for an additional $4,481,000,000 will give us the maximum return for the military tax dollar. The joint chiefs of staff have unanimously

Birth of Quads In Detroit, 3 Girls, Boy

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 26—Quadruplets were born 10 weeks prematurely today to Mrs. Anna Borg, 30-year-old wife of a Kaiser-Frazer Corp. assembly line worker.

Dr. Edward D. King, who delivered the three girls and one boy, had them placed immediately in incubators. He estimated their weight at 1½ to 1¾ pounds and said they were "doing fine." He reported the mother's condition as "very good."

"Gee, nobody is more surprised than I am," said the father, Joseph, who was at Providence hospital while the babies were being born.

12 DEAD IN OHIO WEEKEND TRAFFIC

Marion County Roads Heavily Used, But Accidents Few.

Although fine weather yesterday called hundreds of motorists to the highways in Marion county, along with the rest of the state, the locality escaped the serious accident toll which reached 12 dead in other sections of Ohio, including one in an accident near Mansfield and one near Lima.

In Marion an eight-year-old boy, Arnold Gore Jr., of Mt. Gilead was taken to City hospital shortly after 3:30 p. m. badly bruised after running into the path of a car at Windsor street and Nunin court. He was released this morning.

Only two traffic accidents, neither serious were reported by local police while the state patrol similarly reported a relatively accident free weekend with but two mishaps called to their attention from Saturday noon until this morning.

Twelve Auto Deaths Listed in Ohio

By The Associated Press

Sunny, warm weather and death went hand-in-hand again yesterday on Ohio highways.

Eleven persons died in traffic accidents as thousands of Ohioans crowded the open road for pleasure jaunts.

Three persons were killed yesterday when a fast Pennsylvania railroad passenger train struck the auto carrying them. Police identified the dead as George M. Menold, 66, his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude McIntyre, 26, and her husband, Orrin, 34.

The accident occurred near Warren when their auto started across the tracks just after a west bound freight train had cleared. The crossing was guarded only by a flasher.

Harry E. Kidder 29; his brother, Herman, 17, and Robert Redman, 17, all of Portsmouth, died when their automobile hit a highway culvert near Portsmouth. Two others in the car were injured.

Don Frey, 24, of Buckorn, Auglaize county, and Miss Joan Madigan, 14, of Wapakoneta were killed north of Wapakoneta. William Feiblekorn, Jr., 19, and Betty Doty, 15, both of Wapakoneta, were injured critically in the two-car accident. Fry was driving alone.

Other Sunday traffic victims: Miss Shirley Holler, 20, of Newark, killed in a two-car collision east of Newark.

William Myers, 30, of Barnesville, Belmont county, killed when he attempted to leap from a car after the driver discovered its brakes were not working as a train approached a crossing near

Taft, Stassen Enter Final Week's Drive

Outlook "Very Encouraging," Says Senator as Drive Nears Close.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 26—Sen. Robert A. Taft told a news conference today he thought Harold E. Stassen reached his popularity peak in Ohio last week and now is "on the downtrend."

"Stassen probably reached his peak in Nebraska and Wisconsin on election day, but here in Ohio he reached that peak 10 days before election and now is on the downtrend," the Cincinnati Republican observed.

Taft claimed the outlook for his delegates in the state's primary May 4 was "very encouraging." Although he declined to estimate the outcome in numbers of delegates, he declared: "I don't see why we should lose any except on the law of averages."

He said he would work today on Ohio speeches for the next four days in which he would attack "the extremely vague" position of the former Minnesota governor "on many issues."

Taft is campaigning against Harold E. Stassen, who seeks 23 of Ohio's 53 delegates to the Republican national convention. Stassen stumped the state last week and is scheduled to return again this week.

Ohio's junior senator, John W. Bricker, and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert also were to make several speeches this week in support of Taft. Bricker set his first for Wednesday at Youngstown.

They were expected to confine their appearances to northern Ohio districts where Stassen claims his greatest strength.

Taft and Wife Speak

Taft and his wife, Martha, last night made their first joint appearance in the Ohio campaign, addressing two GOP ward meetings here.

The senate leader asked for a vote of confidence in his anti-New Deal record in congress.

He said the fact Stassen entered delegates in districts "farthest from Cincinnati" suggested an appeal for Democratic votes.

Mrs. Taft declared many persons thought Taft was "just running for the exercise" when he defeated the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, in 1938.

"Bob beat the New Deal, President Roosevelt and Santa Claus (WPA) that year, and we haven't got anything harder now," she said, adding:

"We beat the New Deal in the Democratic party and we can beat it within the Republican party." This was in reference to her husband's assertion that Stassen talks "like a New Dealer."

Urges Solid Taft Backing

In Columbus, Republican state headquarters released an appeal by Senator Bricker, himself a presidential hopeful in 1944, for support for Taft.

"It is singularly important," said Bricker in a letter to Republican voters, "that the entire Ohio delegation be pledged to Senator Taft at the convention in Philadelphia. Such unanimity will materially strengthen our position there and will immeasurely assure the certain and speedy nomination of Ohio's candidate. You alone can make it certain that every Ohio delegate is really an Ohio delegate and pledged to Ohio's Taft.

"As chairman of the Ohio Taft-for-President-committee, I urge you to go to the polls on Tues-

Stassen Switches Tentatively from Ohio to New Jersey.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 26 — Harold E. Stassen takes time out this week from his Ohio battle with Senator Robert A. Taft to bid openly for the backing of New Jersey's 35 delegates to the GOP national convention.

Senator H. Alexander Smith said Stassen's visit is part of a plan to bring all of the Republican presidential possibilities in for talks with his state's unpledged delegates.

Taft is expected to visit New Jersey in May. Smith said Senator Arthur Vandenberg, (Mich), who is being mentioned widely as a possible compromise candidate, has turned down a similar bid. He added no arrangements have been made yet for a visit by Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Stassen will speak Wednesday on the Princeton university campus. He will broadcast on a national hookup from Smith's Princeton home that night.

Aides here contend the former Minnesota governor already is sure of strong support among the 35 New Jersey delegates. The understanding is the group will vote for Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll as a favorite son in the early balloting.

Report Vandenberg Support

There have been reports that several of the delegates would like to swing to Vandenberg, if he gives any sign that he might accept the nomination. The Michigan senator has said repeatedly he doesn't want it.

The cross-the-counter bidding for New Jersey's support seemed likely to have no counterpart in either Pennsylvania or Massachusetts, where GOP convention delegates will be chosen in primaries tomorrow.

Pennsylvania's 73 votes—the tastiest plum outside of New York—will be unpledged, but behind Senator Edward Martin as a favorite son on the early ballots.

Martin and Gov. James H. Duff, who will head the group, are expected to have a lot to say about where the bloc finally swings its support. A write-in campaign for some candidate in tomorrow's primary might tip the scales somewhat if it develops wide proportions.

Saltonstall Favorite Son

Massachusetts Republicans will pick a 35-member delegation due to support Senator Leverett Saltonstall on the first vote. House Speaker Joseph W. Martin is reported in line for backing if he develops as a darkhorse candidate, with Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., in the background as another possibility.

There has been some speculation that Rhode Island Republicans, picking eight delegates at a convention today, might back Speaker Martin as an adopted favorite son.

Newark's Pharis Tire Laying Off All 750

NEWARK, O., April 26 — Pharis Tire & Rubber Co. will lay off all production workers indefinitely May 1, President Furber Marshall announced today. About 750 are now employed.

He blamed lessened demand, reduced prices, and increased production costs for the move but said the workers would be recalled as soon as possible.

The plant employs 1,500 when working at capacity.

Sycamore Woman Greeted By Friends as She Reaches 101

Mrs. Margaret Walton of Sycamore, one of Wyandot county's oldest citizens, quietly observed her one hundred and first birthday anniversary Sunday at her home. No special celebration was planned due to the illness of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Oxender of Nova.

A son, Richard Walton of Sycamore, ate dinner with his mother at noon at her home. Mrs. Walton's daughter, Mrs. Ivah Volkner of Fostoria, and Mrs. Volkner's daughter and husband were the only other members of the immediate family present during the day. Other relatives from Oak Harbor, Tiffin, Fostoria and Sycamore called at different times throughout Saturday and Sunday.

Lives Alone

Mrs. Walton, who lives alone and does her own housework, gets about with the aid of a cane. She is in fairly good health. Her eyesight is failing and she is hard of hearing but she is in good spirits and she says she is "happy" Mrs. Walton had been with her daughter, Mrs. Oxender in Nova, for a time until last Sunday when she returned to her own home on account of the illness of her daughter.

Born east of Sycamore April 25, 1847, Mrs. Walton was one of four daughters of William and Isabelle Andrews Wilse. She is the only one remaining, the last sister having died in Iowa two years ago at the age of 96. Her mother died when she was eight years old.

Mrs. Walton has been a lifelong resident of Sycamore and community except for a few years following her marriage to William Walton in 1870 during which time she and Mr. Walton traveled by covered wagon to Nebraska.

Four Children Living

Four of Mrs. Walton's seven children are still living. They are Mrs. Volkner, Mrs. Oxender, Richard Walton and Arthur Walton of Akron. She has ten grandchildren.

Mrs. Walton is one of at least two Wyandot county residents who are more than 100 years old. Mrs. Hannah Trumbo, a resident of the Home for the Aged in Upper Sandusky, reached 101 years of age on Feb. 26.

ARAB JAFFA UNDER FIRE

Jewish Underground Forces Resume Attack Despite Haganah Orders.

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, PALESTINE, April 26—Irgun Zvai Leumi today resumed its attack on Arab Jaffa, despite orders to desist broadcast in downtown Tel Aviv street by Haganah, the Jewish militia. The Jewish underground organization launched the attack from Tel Aviv yesterday without Haganah permission.

The attack was directed for the second successive day toward the Mashieh quarter of Jaffa, beyond a No-man's-land of shell-shattered homes in the poorer district several blocks wide.

Heavy mortar and bomb explosions preceded the attack, which was under cover of strong fire from automatic weapons. Machine-gun and mortar fire from Jaffa indicated the Jews were meeting resistance.

Tension was high among the civilian residents of all-Jewish Tel Aviv.

Haganah trucks cruised Allenby street shortly after dawn, broadcasting orders for Irgun's militia to break up traffic controls and roadblocks maintained since yesterday in the streets leading to the battle zone. At noon Irgun still manned the roadblocks, and truckborne forces of Haganah were seen on the alert at points nearby.

Once during the morning Haganah approached the main Irgun block on Hertzl street and demanded it be cleared. The Irgunists refused. Fist fighting broke out, and a few shots were fired into the air. Crowds of passersby swarmed in between the two groups and broke up the fighting.

An estimated 1,000 men launched the attack yesterday. It was the largest number Irgun has mustered yet for an operation, according to Tel Aviv residents.

High Irgun officers told reporters last night Arab defenders had fallen back into the middle of Jaffa, a neighboring city of 95,000, and Irgun soldiers were going on with the attack. Earlier, Hebrew newspapers said the drive had carried a mile into Jaffa's frontier Mashieh quarter.

Other sources said the underground assault had stalled on running up against British troops with mechanized equipment. They said the British had told Haganah Tel Aviv would be shelled unless Irgun fell back into the no man's land between the cities.

(The British army in Jerusalem reported yesterday early casualties in the Jaffa fighting were two Jews and two Arabs dead and 64 Arabs wounded.)

Irgun was reported at one point to have handed the Arabs a surrender ultimatum, but there was no word of an Arab reply.

Haifa itself, with a mixed population of 120,000, fell under control of Haganah Thursday after a two-day attack in which Irgun helped. The Arab inhabitants began moving out.

Stubborn Tiffin Fire Keeps Fighters Busy

By The United Press

TIFFIN, O., April 26—Firemen today still were pouring water on a stubborn blaze in a storage building of the American Clay Forming Co.

The fire, confined to stored sawdust and white clay used in making fireplace burners, began at 2:45 a. m. One fireman, Park Chaney, was slightly hurt when cut by flying glass.

The stored sawdust and clay was in a fireproof building, which enabled firemen to confine the blaze.

DINNER IS SET FOR TONIGHT

Tris Speaker and Cy Young on Program; Muncie Plays Here Tomorrow.

It's baseball week in Marion! Tonight, on the eve of the Marion Cubs' opening game of the season, the Inter-Club council will hold its third annual baseball banquet, and two of baseball's greatest players, Tristram (Tris) Speaker and Denton T. (Cy) Young will be on hand for the celebration. The banquet will be held at Hotel Harding at 6:30 p. m.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Lincoln park the cry "play ball" will start the Cubs and the Muncie Reds on a baseball campaign that will stretch over 140 games and into September. The six other Ohio-Indiana clubs also will open the season tomorrow with Portsmouth at Newark, Richmond at Lima, and Springfield at Zanesville.

The Cubs will be home to Muncie again Wednesday night, and to Richmond Thursday and Friday nights before leaving on a road trip that will take them to Portsmouth and Springfield.

Bannister Here Thursday

The Kiwanis club will keep up with baseball week Thursday when Al Bannister, president of the Columbus Red Birds in the Triple-A American Association will speak at their weekly luncheon.

The banquet tonight will be the kick-off for the Cubs' 1948 campaign and the local ball club, which ended its three-game exhibition series with a 6 to 5 win over the Newark Yankees yesterday, will be the honored guests of the more than 200 baseball fans expected at the affair. The Cubs, managed by Lewis (Zeke) Bekeza, won two of their three exhibitions. Besides Speaker, generally rated as the greatest center fielder of all time, and Young, an all-time great pitcher who won over 500 games in his 19-year career in the majors, there will be several other prominent names in the sports world, including Fritz Howell, Ohio sports editor of The Associated Press, Robert Hooey, sports editor of the Ohio State Journal, Turk Reilly, once a catcher with the local ball club in the old Ohio State league, and perhaps Jack Sheehan, farm director of the Chicago Cubs.

Both In Hall of Fame

Both Cy Young, now in retirement on an Ohio farm, and Speaker, still active in baseball as a Cleveland Indian coach, were selected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1937.

Young will be accompanied by Reilly, now a sporting goods salesman and Young's manager on the knife and fork circuit.

Howell, who will be toastmaster, arrived in town at noon, and the others are expected by 4 p. m. today. Sheehan indicated that he would try to make the affair tonight and the baseball opener tomorrow if at all possible, but couldn't give a definite acceptance to the invitation.

George Trautman, president of the association of minor league baseball clubs, who has attended the banquet and opening game here several times in past years, was unable to be here this year.

The crowd expected at the dinner tonight will overflow the Harding Hotel ballroom and additional tables will be placed in the mezzanine, Don Williamson, banquet chairman predicted.

OLEO TAX FIGHT NOW IN HOUSE SHOWDOWN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 26—The butter-oleo battle moved onto the house floor today for a showdown.

The issue—will congress erase the 52-year-old federal taxes on oleomargarine?—has spilt Republican ranks wide open.

It has aligned city Republican and country Republican against one another. It even has echoed in the presidential nomination campaigning. Sen. Robert A. Taft called for repeal of the tax. Harold E. Stassen said "no."

Moreover, the issue has opened a broad gap in the farm bloc, with members from the southern cotton and peanut belts battling members from dairy regions. Cotton and peanut oil go into the making of oleo.

One of the injured was in a critical condition. Three were hurt seriously.

The locomotive and tender, a combination baggage - dormitory car and two pullman cars of the Illinois Central railroad's Sun Chaser plunged down the steep 100-foot embankment. Adamsville is about 15 miles northeast of Birmingham.

Twenty-three baseball players from the Sheboygan, Wis., Indians and the Cairo, Ill. club of the Brooklyn Dodger training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., proved themselves heroes by rescuing passengers from the wreckage and administering first aid.

Ernest Mayhall of Birmingham, the train fireman, suffered critical burns. Miss Louise Dahnke of Chicago, 45-year-old sister of the dead woman, was reported seriously injured. Mrs. Eva L. Hewen, 89, of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Paver of Evanston, Ill., also were critically hurt.

Injured passengers were high in their praise of the ballplayers.

One woman told how several players used sheets to pull her small girl from a coach. Several of the injured were carried up the embankment by means of sheets tied together.

The players applied first aid until doctors arrived.

MINERS RETURNING, PENSION FIGHT ON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 26 — Peace rode into the coal pits with thousands of returning miners today. But John L. Lewis and the operators began slugging it out over pensions in another ring.

The miners appeared to be heading back to work all through the scattered coal fields, finally ending six weeks of shutdowns.

The walkout began March 15, after Lewis told the miners the operators had "dishonored" their contract by not agreeing to his pension proposal.

Lewis called a meeting today of the three trustees of the pension fund, presumably to consider the newest moves of the operators.

These include a court challenge by Ezra Van Horn, the operators' trustee, of the tentative pension plan which prompted Lewis to send the men back to work. It was adopted by Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, over Van Horn's objection.

The operators also made public the final report of a statistical study of the welfare fund. That study, by a Philadelphia firm, said the present 10-cent a ton royalty payments by the mine owners could finance only a $50 a month pension for their workers who reach age 65.

The plan agreed to by Lewis and Bridges would provide $100 a month for 62-year old United Mine Workers who had served 20 years in the industry and retired after May 29, 1946.

More than $33,000,000 has been collected to date by the 10 cent royalty.

Van Horn contended in his suit the Taft-Hartley act requests the employer representative to sign any pension arrangements. Moreover, he asked the court to hold Lewis and Bridges personally liable for any pension payments they make under their April 12 settlement.

TOWN FINDS WAY TO END LABOR TROUBLES

By The United Press

STIBNITE, Ida.—Deep in the mountains of central Idaho lies this model mining village. It lies 80 miles over two mountain passes from a railroad and a highway.

The Bradley Mining Co. has one of its major operations here and though it has employed hundreds of men in its tungsten, antimony and gold mines the last decade never once has there been even a murmur of labor trouble. There is no union here—except one between employes and management.

The relationship between employe and employer is unique.

Idaho is dotted with ghost towns, the result of old mining booms. When the towns were booming the people lived in half-way primitive style. The houses were mere shacks without conveniences.

Stibnite Peaceful

Not so here. Houses are modern. So are conveniences. Life was lusty in the old-time mining towns. At Stibnite it is peaceful. There are no bars. But there is a recreation hall and sports of all kind from bowling to skiing.

Employes have had a voice in operation of the mines ever since the Bradley Co. took over the vast tungsten and antimony operations. The tungsten was mined out during the war. But antimony and gold are still produced.

All work is supervised by the employes representative committee. Representatives of employes and management sit on that committee and they review, suggest and decide on just about every detail of mine operation and community life. The committee meets every two weeks. The town paper, the Stibnite Miner, records faithfully every detail of the meeting.

To Share Profits

Recently it was announced at a meeting that the internal revenue bureau had approved a management plan to set up a profit-sharing plan and that only approval by the wage and hour division was needed before the plan could be put into operation. It calls for setting up a trust fund for employes out of profits.

The committee evaluates and awards money prizes for suggestions put into use at the mine and mill. It checks on every little detail that may lead to friction and grievances.

The company has always paid an annual bonus and wages have kept at least equal to those paid for similar work in other parts of the country.

To Show Films Here Tuesday

DR. IRWIN A. MOON

A sound and color film, "The God of Creation," will be presented at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the Salvation Army hall it was announced today by Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz. The entertainment will be open to the public free of charge. Vivid full-color scenes are featured in the picture produced in Moody Institute of Science, West Coast department of Moody Bible Institute, by Irwin A. Moon, Sc. D. the film is the second in a series of evangelistic films.

In the opening section of "The God of Creation," a religious-scientific film, the audience takes a trip to the stars by means of solar photographs taken through the giant 100-inch telescope of Mount Wilson Observatory in southern California, and views complex gyrations of our own solar system.

Lapse-time photography is utilized to demonstrate the beauties of natural science. The illusion of flower buds developing into full-bloom blossoms in a few seconds is created through this time-compressing photo technique. The metamorphosis of a caterpillar through the various stages from worm to butterfly, and pollination of flowers are seen on the screen in full color.

"The God of Creation" will be shown by the Rev. A. D. Telder, Moody film representative.

Moving Greenwich

For centuries the world's clocks have been set by Greenwich Mean Time computed on the zero meridian at Greenwich, England.

But during the next five years Greenwich Observatory will be moved by gradual stages to Hurstmonceux Castle, 55 miles distant from the smoke and fog of industrial Greenwich. Already the master clocks have been moved 18 miles west of the meridian line to Abinger, where the time lag from Greenwich is 1 minute 32.733 seconds. Greenwich scientists make allowance for this, plus the 30 thousandths of a second required to transmit the time signal to Rugby where it is broadcast throughout the world.

Time is checked by observation of 1,535 stars which the International Astronomical Union has agreed upon for calculations.

Greenwich was established as the "time center" of the world during the reign of Charles II when England was becoming a naval power. He chose Greenwich, then far out in the country, for his observatory, borrowed bricks from Ft. Tilbury, lead from the Tower of London and raised funds for equipment by the sale of spoiled gunpowder. The whole observatory cost about $2,500. His astronomers ran an imaginary zero meridian across their hilltop eyrie. Since no other nation disputed, navigators of all nations began to make their calculations from that line.

MARION PHEASANT SHOOTER FINED $200

Assessed Penalty at Prospect for Taking Two Birds.

Shooting pheasants out of season proved costly to Cecil Colgrove, 28, of 198 Nye street who was fined $200 and costs this morning by Mayor Fred Gehm in Prospect.

Colgrove was picked up shortly before 7 p. m. Saturday evening along the Campbell road southwest of Marion. Armed with a 22 rifle, he had bagged a cock and a hen pheasant before arrested. An area resident, Leonard Green, noticed the shooting and notified the sheriff's department.

Colgrove was placed in county jail until his appearance in Prospect mayor's court this morning. Two teen-age youths who were carrying the birds after Colgrove had shot them were severely reprimanded and released.

Game Protector O. H. Neimeyer filed the affidavit against Colgrove for taking wild game out of season. The Marion man entered a plea of guilty to the charge, paid the fine and was released.

Taking of game, particularly pheasants, out of season has got to stop, Neimeyer declared. Violators apparently are not taking $25 and $50 fines too seriously. Our only recourse now is to prosecute to the full extent of the law which will be done from now on, he warned.

HOW PRIMARY PARTY CHOICE IS DECIDED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, April 26—If you want to switch parties at the May primary, the law says you can under certain conditions.

State officials said today that they had received no inquiries from voters wanting to know how to switch parties. Officials at the office of both secretary of state Clarence J. Hummel and Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins said that in previous primaries there have been many disputes over qualifications of primary voters.

The 1948 handbook on Ohio election laws issued by the secretary of state shows one important amendment on voters' qualifications made by the 1947 legislature.

The new law says that if you are a registered Democrat, for instance, you can vote in the Republican primary provided you state under oath that you didn't vote at a previous general election and wish to become affiliated with the Republican party.

Generally speaking, the law says you must be a member of or affiliated with the political party whose primary election ballot you desire to vote.

"Membership in or political affiliation with a political party," the law says, "shall be determined as to one who has voted in a previous general election, by the sworn statement as to how he voted in the next preceding general election at which he voted."

The law also provides that a voter asking for a certain primary ballot may be challenged on the grounds that he is not a party member.

All the challenged voter has to do, however, is to state under oath that at the preceding general election he voted for a majority of candidates of the party in whose primary he wishes to vote.

Election officials said there was no way of checking up on the accuracy of a voter's statement as to how he voted at the preceding election.

Stamp To Commemorate Wisconsin Statehood

The postal department will issue a three-cent stamp through the Madison, Wis., post office, on May 29, 1948, to mark the one-hundredth anniversary of the admission of Wisconsin to the Union. The stamp will be available at the Marion post office after May 30.

The stamp will be 0.84 by 1.44 inches in dimensions, arranged horizontally, printed by the rotary process in purple; electric-eye perforated, and issued in sheets of 50 subjects. The printing of 115,000,000 Wisconsin stamps has been authorized.

The central design of the stamp consists of a reproduction of the state capitol building to the right of a scroll showing an outline of the state around which is the wording, "Wisconsin Centennial 1848-1948," in dark gothic. Directly above the capitol in the same style lettering is the word "Forward." Across the bottom of the stamp appears "United States Postage 3c" in white gothic.

For the benefit of collectors desiring stamps of selected quality for philatelic use, the three-cent Wisconsin statehood commemorative stamp will be available at the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D. C., on and after May 31, 1948. To insure prompt shipment, mail orders to the agency should include no other stamp issues. The Philatelic Agency does not service first-day covers.

PAPER REPORTS ON NEW PLANT

Shovel Co. Scoop Tells of Progress on Factory at Cambridge.

Featured as the main story on the front page of the April issue of The Marion Scoop, an employe paper published by and for the employes of the Marion Power Shovel Co., is the report of the recent annual meeting of stockholders of the Marion Power Shovel Co.

The account reported that construction work at the Cambridge plant to adapt it for the production of Marion draglines is nearing completion. Some manufacturing on a small scale already has started there but the assembly of complete machines will not get under way for several months.

It also was reported that the conversion of the foundry area for assembly purposes is nearing completion. A dragline, the largest built, is now under construction on the new assembly floor in the former foundry building. The management expects the new assembly area will substantially augment the volume produced in the Marion plant and the current year's production should show an increase over last year. In the story it was explained that one of the most serious problems affecting the production of Marion equipment is the constant one of dealing with material shortages.

A family "team" working at The Shovel is pictured in The Scoop and featured in a story. The family group is composed of David T. Schwaderer and his three sons, Edwin M., Donald C., and Lowell W. Schwaderer. They are only one of the many father-sons groups working at the Shovel. The father, who resides at 610 North State street, is tool crib tender was was employed by the Shovel in 1924. He will complete [illegible] years on April 7, 1949.

Edwin resides at Green Camp and is a requirement clerk, having been employed at the Shovel Dec. 18, 1940. He was then reinstated March 1, 1945, following 18 months service in the Navy. He is a staff member of The Scoop.

Donald, a drill press operator, went to work at the Shovel Feb. 7, 1937. He resides near New Bloomington. Lowell of the North State street address was employed at the plant Jan. 8, 1940.

A feature story on Raymond Baer of 523 Avondale avenue, who is widely known for his hobby as one of the most enthusiastic homing pigeon fanciers in Ohio, is also carried in this issue of The Scoop. Raising pigeons has been a lifelong hobby with Mr. Baer as his father was a fancier of the birds.

Mr. Baer maintains a capacity population of about 30 pairs of high grade pigeons in the loft at his home.

More Cases of Lung Cancer Noted Each Year

Even as recently as 10 years ago, cancer of the lung was considered rare. Today, it is second in frequency only to cancer of the stomach and intestinal tract.

This may not mean an actual increase but only that greater alertness and better diagnostic methods are bringing more of these growths to light. On the other hand there is evidence that this form of cancer is on the upsurge, due, in the opinion of some experts, to many irritants, such as smoke and chemicals in the air of our large cities and factory centers. In any case, cancer of the lung is today an outstanding problem since it is estimated that of the half-million cancer victims in the United States, more than 12,000 suffer from cancer of the lung.

Strangely enough, this form of cancer attacks men far more often than women. In fact, 70 to 86 per cent of those known to have it are males. Just why men should have a greater weakness in this way is not known and probably will not be known until the cause of cancer in general is discovered. Chronic or repeated irritation is suspected as being an important contributing cause, and smoking is thought to play a chief role in producing this irritation. Definite evidence along this line, however, is lacking.

The most common early symptom of lung cancer is a dry cough. Later on, during the coughing attacks, a great deal of secretion may be brought up from the lungs. The sputum often may have streaks of blood in it, and a massive hemorrhage may occur at any time during the course of the disorder.

Wheezing may indicate that the tumor has blocked one of the bronchi or tubes of the lung. If there is pain in the chest, it may mean there is some involvement of the pleura or lining membrane over the lungs. Late in the condition, there may be fever, loss of weight and strength, hoarseness, and shortness of breath.

The signs of the tumor growth vary depending upon its size and location, but there are often abnormal signs, called rales, present during breathing.

When patients more than forty years of age complain of unexplained cough lasting over a month, the possibility of cancer of the lung should be kept in mind. A sudden onset of shortness of breath, without heart disease, also should make one suspect lung cancer.

In making a definite diagnosis X-ray examination is important. However, such examination will only show that some abnormal condition is present and will not definitely identify it as a cancer of the lung. However, X-ray examination, together with the symptoms, should make an accurate diagnosis possible.

Cancers of the lung do not respond to X-ray or radium treatment. The only hope of cure of this disease is early diagnosis and surgical removal. In most cases this means complete removal of one lung.

Questions and Answers

H. E. L. Will you please tell me something about edema under the eyes? What causes this condition?

A. Puffiness under the eyelids results from lack of rest and sleep. If you get sufficient rest and take the proper exercise each day, and the rings under your eyes still persist, there may be some disturbance in the water balance in your body. Some individuals have tissue which holds more water than others, and this collection of fluid in the body causes puffiness under the eyes. There is no need to worry about the matter, however, for the condition can cause no trouble.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boy

NEW YORK

SOVIET spies in Berlin are now stealing—of all things—congressional directories.

An American back from the German capital, which is now an inland island to the western allies, reports widespread espionages by German employes in secret league with the Russians.

"It is rather amateurish though," he said, "because the Germans like to tattle on each other.

Hal Boyle

"If a worker in your office is a spy and goes through your desk after you leave, the other Germans break their neck to get on a phone and tell you about him.

"They steal the oddest things—U. S. postal guides, the World Almanac, reference books on America, and even copies of the congressional directory. They steal public military government reports they could have for the asking.

"They would rather steal than get them legitimately."

The man said he had no idea why the Russians wanted such material unless they were trying to amass information on America—or just keep their German stooges exercised.

"I had one spy spotted in my office," he said, "but I kept him on at the request of our own military intelligence, who wanted to watch him. But finally I had to bounce him.

"Then he started stealing for himself. One night he stole a telephone out of the office. The next day he had the gall to bring it in and try to sell it back to the office manager.

"That was going too far. I bounced him."

SMALL FRY quandary

"Daddy's awful hard to buy a present for," the little girl confided blithely. "All he likes is martinis, cigarets and newspapers."

Today Artists Arthur William Brown, Russell Patterson and Bradshaw Crandell are throwing one at the Stork club to present Violet Nolan, 20, whom they found in a search through Ireland for "the loveliest colleen." She comes from Tralee, and the artists say she pedaled 25 miles by bicycle to be interviewed.

The prize cocktail party of the last twelve months, however, was held at a famous Midtown hotel to launch a tractor. It showed as guest of honor in a coat of paint.

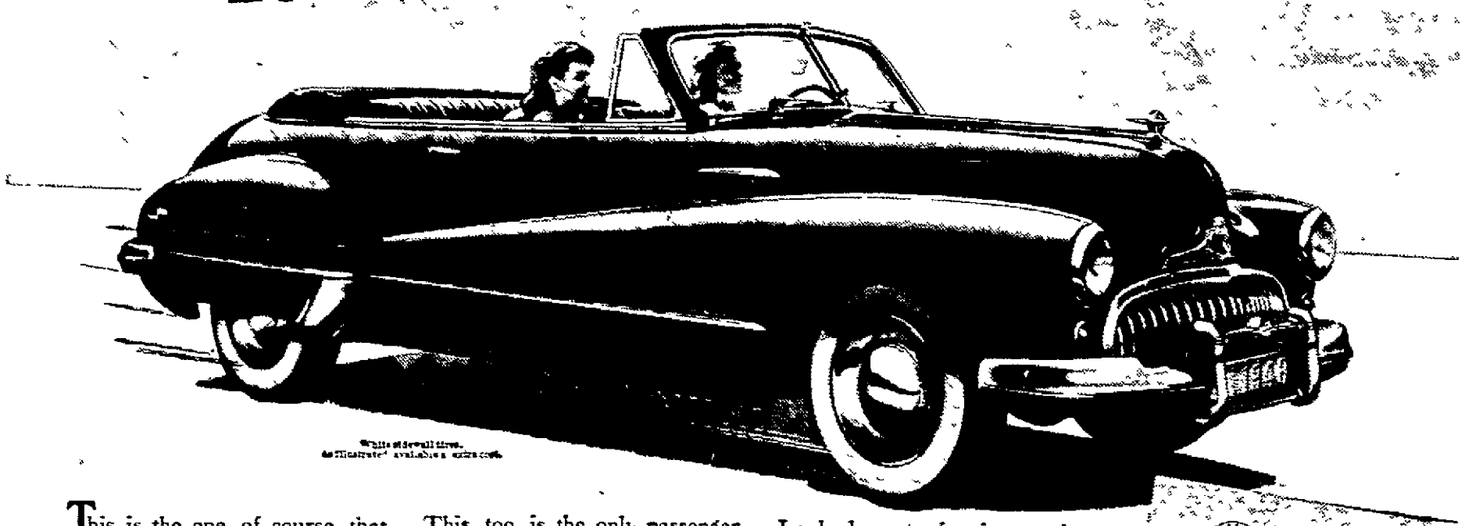
Looked at and looked up to



This is the one, of course, that you spot at a glance.

This is the one that sends a string of facts racing through your mind — if you know automobiles — the instant you see the name ROADMASTER spelled out on its fender.

Up to one hundred and fifty Fireball horsepower. Eighteen feet big — and spring-colt lively.

Gorgeously finished. Coil-spring cradled on all four wheels. Shod with oversize tires that take extra low pressures for added comfort.

Convenient too — with push-button controls not only for the top, but for door windows and the front-seat adjustment as well.

This, too, is the only passenger car in this country where the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here's the one place you'll find Dynaflow Drive,* in which liquid replaces not only the clutch and manually operated low, second and high, but mechanical gear-changers as well.

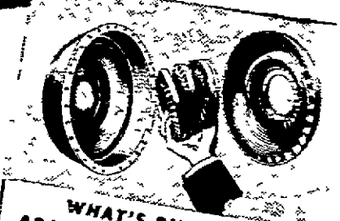
In short — here's liquid ease and smoothness in delightful new degree, through a sort of "magic muscle" that lets you forget about gear-changing practically entirely.

No wonder, then, this car is looked up to.

Looked up to for impressive appearance — looked up to for superlative ability.

Looked up to for what's newest in engineering advances.

If your standards call for a real performer — and for quality a cut above the ordinarily good — specify ROADMASTER when you see your dealer (with or without a car to trade) about getting an order in.



WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (1-4 above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in bend) which produce a "torque-boosting action" in starting and accelerating. The result is the first drive on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

BUICK alone has all these features

In Plain Words By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Top government economists have their spyglasses out—surveying the horizon—but making no forecasts.

They're watching to see if maybe industry generally will cut prices to bring down living costs. What made them start looking were these things that happened last week:

1. General Electric Corporation, which had cut prices $50,000,000 in January, cut them another $10,000,000.

James Marlow

2. The U. S. Steel Corporation, which had boosted prices $20,000,000 in February, now decided to cut them $25,000,000.

3. Westinghouse Electric Corporation cut its prices about $3,125,000.

Some people may see in those three actions the beginning of a pattern of price cuts by industry generally.

But these economists with the spyglasses don't say that. Their attitude is "let's wait and see."

When General Electric cut prices $50,000,000 last January, it received praise from government officials. They looked upon the cut as a helpful way to stop inflation.

But last February about 16 of the top steel companies said they'd have to raise certain steel prices about $5 a ton.

THE GIANT OF THEM all, U. S. Steel, figured that raise would mean for it a total raise of about $28,000,000. Was this inflationary?

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said it was "too small and unimportant" to be inflationary.

U. S. Steel's net profit in 1947 was $127,000,000, compared with an $88,622,000 profit in 1946.

President Truman's council of economic advisers looked at the price boost put through by the steel industry and said it had been done without due regard for the "public interest."

The department of justice checked to see whether the steel companies had teamed up to boost prices. Industry leaders denied this.

AND A CONGRESSIONAL committee held hearings and brought Fairless and other steelmen here to talk about the price increase.

But that's about all that happened until Sunday, April 18, when General Electric announced it was adding another $10,000,000 price cut to the $50,000,000 cut it had announced in January.

Then on Thursday U. S. Steel said it was cutting prices $25,000,000. So this—except for the $3,000,000 difference—seemed to wipe out the $28,000,000 price increase of February.

On Friday Westinghouse posted its new prices—down $3,125,000.

In announcing the U. S. Steel cut, Fairless said it was an effort to halt rising living costs.

At the some time Fairless turned down the CIO Steelworker's demand for a pay increase. Fairless said:

"We have told Mr. Philip Murray, the president of the union, that in our judgment the granting by us of such a wage increase will not in the long run bring benefit to anyone, as it will lead to other substantial wage increases in other industries and to higher prices generally."

MURRAY SAID HIS union has a two-year contract with U. S. Steel and so will not strike, even though denied a wage raise.

But Murray pointed to U. S. Steel's profit of $127,000,000 and said the company not only could afford to cut prices more than the announced $25,000,000 slice, but:

"Still retain sufficient profit margin to grant the union's just demands for a real wage increase."

The $25,000,000 cut is less than 1.2 per cent of U. S. Steel's total sales of $2,122,786,243 in 1947.

On Friday, one day after Fairless' statement, General Electric's wage talks with the CIO Electrical Workers union went into "recess." The company would not grant the kind of pay raise the union wanted.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I WAS not struggling with my risibles at this last speech of Katie's but with anger. Sometimes, I tell myself, that, even in this time of maid shortages, when Katie's faithfulness, her efficiency her loyalty, and her other sterling qualities are like a bulwark to my soul, I am paying too high a price in subjecting myself to her colossal impudence, although, to do her justice, I think she is sublimely ignorant of the magnitude of her verbal transgressions.

But I did not get a chance to reprove her. Jim's voice was almost a bellow, and I knew that only his long-reppressed anger would have let him utter a sound like that in my presence.

"Katie!" he thundered. "You know better than to talk like that. Now, don't forget what I told you upstairs. I promised Mis' Graham, I wouldn't, but you promised you'd behave, too. Now, one more word like that out of you, and I take you right out of here, promise, or no promise. You've got no call speaking of Miss Mary like that."

"Jeem, Jeem!" she wailed. "I no say nuddings bad about Mees Mary. I talking 'bout dot fool keeng George. Everybody knows he vun.'

We shall never know the epithet — scurrilous and laugh-provoking, I was sure—that was trembling on Katie's lips, for as Jim stormed "Katie!" again, she clapped her hands over her face and held them there as if she never meant to let another word escape her.

I turned placating eyes upon Jim.

"I'm sure Katie won't offend again, Jim," I said clamly, then turned hurriedly back to his patently terrified wife, although I was sure that she was peeping from between her fingers, estimating the magnitude of Jim's anger and mine.

"Take your hands down, Katie," I said, "look at me, listen to me, and stop your nonsense. I haven't any time to waste."

She took down her hands, carefully avoided looking at her husband and fixed her eyes imploringly on me, with impassioned speech patently trembling on her lips.

"Not a word" I told her firmly. "I must talk fast. In the first place, your deduction is right"—I found my own lips twitching at the look of triumphant joy that leaped into her eyes—"King George and Princess Olina are to be married out here, as soon as we can get ready for the wedding."

I saw the same question in the eyes of all three of my auditors. They had been told that Georges was in danger of his life, and was being hidden in the farmhouse, under guard of my father's FBI aide, Mr. "K." and his assistants, ready to be rushed into the underground secret chamber, if the need should arise. Now, then, their bewildered eyes were saying, could a wedding be celebraied at the farmhouse?

"I don't wonder you are bewildered," I said, "but I will give you the explanation as clearly and rapidly as possible.

"My father has planned everything," I went on. "King Georges, probably, will have to stay here a number of weeks. When he leaves the country again, it will be to go into grave danger. Naturally he and the Princess Olina wish to have as much time together as possible. Therefore my father has planned a house party to be given out here by Mr. Graham and myself for the Philip Veritzens, with the princess Olina, and for Miss Mary and Mr. Noel."

Meester Noel?" Katie gasped, then clasped her hand over her mouth. I guessed to repress a caustic reflection upon Noel's probable reaction to the whole affair.

"The New York papers will have accounts of the house party, according to my father's plan," I said, "but of course, there will be no hint of a wedding, and no one will even have a guess that there is to be one, if every one of you is unusually careful. However, I am planning to have one of the prettiest small weddings ever seen, with the help of all of you, of course."

Plan Additional Music Instruction at Prospect

Instruction in instrumental music for the 1948-49 school year in the Prospect schools will begin on July 15. This has been made possible through recent action of the board of education which added one and one-half months to George Reed's teaching schedule.

Present members of the school band will be called in for a series of scheduled rehearsals during the weeks preceding the regular opening of school in September. Beginners who are prospective band members also will be given the opportunity of meeting with Mr. Reed for individual lessons beginning in mid-July.

Mr. Reed also has plans looking toward the development of stringed instrument ensembles. Greater attention will thus be paid during the coming year to the interests of students who desire instruction on the violin and cello.

A Natural Direction

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FORRESTAL'S support for a compromise between selective service and universal military training shoves the preparedness problem in the direction it wants to go.

Nearly all Americans want adequate preparedness. But a great many of them are not convinced that the necessity for preparedness justifies universal military training.

It is much easier to believe that by reviving selective service and adding some of the more desirable features of military training the country would have the benefit of preparedness without the costly complications of a gigantic new program of military training. The general outline of a compromise already had been suggested by the demonstration unit of military training at Fort Knox, composed of young men drafted under selective service.

Secretary Forrestal's endorsement of a temporary combination does not point toward a settlement of the universal military training issue, but only toward a point at which differences of opinion might be reconciled until the United States has a better idea of what it needs to do to give itself reasonable security in the years ahead.

Consumer "Resistance"

ANOTHER wave of interest in the ultimate consumer seems to be rising. Early evidence of this is seen in recent price-cutting gestures accompanied by warnings against the consequences of further wage boosts.

Business analysts know that a growing segment of the buying public is being forced out of the market by high prices. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in some lines of goods are feeling the effect of buyer "resistance"—the word commonly used to denote inability to meet the price.

This condition is a grim sign in business because it reveals there has been failure to solve the fundamental problem in a free market economy—equitable distribution of purchasing power. If persons with fixed incomes or incomes that can't be increased in proportion to rising prices are forced out of the market by high prices, their departure is felt eventually by those left in the market.

Two possibilities may slow down the growth of buyers' "resistance." One is the foreign recovery program, which promises to keep employment higher than it would be if the United States relied on normal demand. Economic recovery may be supplemented soon, moreover, by a revival of lend-lease for military preparedness. The joker is, of course, that these stimulants to employment, financed by high taxes at home, merely will add to the inflation of prices, forcing many Americans out of the market for everything but bare necessities.

The other possibility is the hope that experience from previous economic cycles may enable those with the power of decision to see the necessity of voluntary wage, price and profit stabilization. No one in 1948 can plead ignorance of the effect of neglect to do everything possible to stabilize prices. Inequitable distribution of purchasing power that forces large numbers of potential buyers out of the market is a known and charted danger.

What's an Air Group?

EVEN IF a 66-group air force wins the approval of all parties concerned as a face-saving proposal, a layman can't help wondering what all this 55-70-66 shooting has been for.

As Senator Morse observed when discussing the 70-group proposal: "A Philadelphia lawyer holds no candle to the witnesses who have testified before us as to the meaning of a 70-group air force. I do not know how many planes comprise a 70-group air force and I have not found any member of the armed forces who has been able to tell me. They say, 'it all depends on what you include in a group.'"

Much of the wrangling and disagreement stems from a common cause for arguments—the failure to define terms. When the words "air group" mean different things to different people, or are nothing more than a term to be defined later, it's wise to call a halt and take care of the definition then and there. Otherwise the belief will grow that the big air force crowd and the small air force crowd are arbitrarily carrying over prejudices and preconceptions of long standing into a subject vital to national defense.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Serious View of Maurice Milligan's Book.

IF EVEN a part of Maurice M. Milligan's indictment of the President is true, Harry Truman has no moral right to be in the White House. He should resign. For while the former United States district attorney for the western district of Missouri absolves Mr. Truman from personal complicity in the conspiracy to steal elections in Kansas City, he nonetheless puts him on the scene of the crime and produces in detail the coverup. If Milligan is in error, Mr. Truman ought to establish the error, if not for his own sake, surely for the good name of the country.

SOKOLSKY

All this appears in a book which was originally called "Missouri Waltz" but which was finally given the title, "The Inside Story of the Pendergast Machinery by the Man Who Smashed It." I received a telegram from Scribner's saying: "Do not in any way use title 'Missouri Waltz' which was on first editions." This telegram ended "Cooperation appreciated." As the long title is sufficient to kill any book, it is altogether clear that Scribner's were intimidated. The suggestion is that somebody once put that title to music and so it's exclusive like "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

Be that as it may, the book is terrific, not because it is the story of the Pendergast gang by the man who thought that he has smashed it, but because it tells the story of how the President of the United States resurrected it.

Just One of Too Many

Frankly, I am little interested in Pendergast. The shame of our cities is the long tale of the Association of politicians with crooked contractors, gamblers, prostitutes, brothel keepers, and murderes. Always a politician stands in the middle, collecting from the criminals, paying off the officials. The American people have tolerated this indecency since Aaron Burr organized Tammany Hall. Both parties have produced their share of swinish beasts who have wrecked their municipalities for their own enrichment. Pendergast may have been one of the worst or he may only have run true to form. He is dead and is probably settling his score where he cannot steal votes.

As long as Milligan deals with that, it is old shoe. But when he puts the President of the United States into this business, it becomes a matter of public concern. Milligan, being a lawyer, protects himself with one sentence:

"At no time did the finger of suspicion ever point in the direction of Senator Truman."

Showing Gratitude

But that means nothing except in a court of law. In fact, Maurice Milligan himself questions the correctness of that statement by saying that subsequent events ". . . make me wonder whether I was right in issuing a clean bill of health." Actually, he accuses Truman of reviving the Pendergast machine of which he had been a part and, according to Milligan, still is a dues-paying, clubhouse part. According to Milligan, Pendergast's nephew James, recommended Truman to the boss and Truman has been everlastingly grateful, for James is now back in the saddle with the President's blessing.

I am not going to summarize Maurice Milligan's book in this column because I want you to read the book. Every American citizen ought to read the book. Whether by design or accident, it appears during an election year. But it is not design that I finished reading the book on the very day when Mr. Truman insists upon flouting congress, upon withholding from the American people Dr. Condon's security record. Having read Milligan's book, I am forced to believe that the President's attitude in the Condon case is unrelated to Dr Condon's security records. He is clearly fighting to cover something much more serious, some personalities more important than the head of the bureau of standards.

I have Dr. Condon's record and it is no worse than some others I know about. But once congress can disclose to the American people the records of public servants, it will be possible to disclose the records of the liars, spies and traitors who were working for foreign countries (foe or friend) while this nation was at war. Is Harry Truman President of the United States or just a good fellow looking after his friends? Milligan raises the question: somebody must answer it.

The Mood in Rome

By Stewart Alsop

ROME

TWO hopeful facts are apparent in this ancient city, which begins to breathe easily again after the excitement of the Italian election.

First, the defeat of the Communists has not been accompanied by any strengthening of the Italian neo-Fascists. On the contrary, the great majority of the non-Communist vote went to the parties of the center—the Christian Democrats and Independent Socialists. There are also indications that groups of the formerly Communist-controlled Socialists may now declare their independence. Altogether, the stage is set for a healthy, democratic Italian revival.

ALSOP

Second, and almost more important, no intoxication from success, to use Stalin's phrase, has resulted from the victory over the Communists. On the contrary, the leaders of the government have carefully noted that an impressive minority of their people was driven by hardship and despair to vote, in effect, for the end of freedom in Italy. It is foolish to expect miracles. But since de Gasperi and the men around him frankly admit there is still a big job to be done, one can at least hope they will tackle the job of winning over the pro-communists with all the resources at their disposal.

Perhaps the best reason for accepting this analysis is the fact that it has been put forward by no less a man than Mario Scelba, Italy's minister of the interior—the short, bald, dumpy, oddly impressive man who is probably the most powerful man in the government after Premier de Gasperi himself. A European minister of the interior does not run the national parks. He runs the police. And ministers of the interior throughout Europe are rarely outstanding for their social vision or forward looking views.

Anti-Red Factors Noted

As a police minister, Scelba is notably efficient without, it is generally agreed, relying excessively on the usual strong-arm methods. The most common parlor game here at the moment is listing the influences that kept down the pro-Communist vote: American aid, the church, Trieste and so on. The most experienced observers, however, place Scelba's name at the head of their lists.

The reason is simple. Scelba has kept order. The methods of his men have sometimes been a bit rough and ready. But they have worked. The elections took place in amiable tranquility. Indeed, the Italians have been deciding the future of their country, and of the world, almost in a mood of fiesta.

No one listened seriously to the vague Communist threats of terror and retribution.

Even in the most ferociously Communist towns, anti-Communists dared to speak their minds and cast their ballots. Without this, the outcome would have been different.

Change of Sentiment.

Surveying the results, however, Scelba is far from complacent. He does not jubilantly hail the election returns as a decisive and final defeat for the Communists. A month or six weeks ago, it seemed certain that rather more than two Italians in five would vote for the Communist front, which would have meant a Communist Italy or chaos. The enormous pressure brought to bear in the last weeks of the campaign changed the minds of about 10 per cent of the electorate. Nevertheless, the Communist front won the support of one Italian in three.

The plain fact is that despite everything, the Communists and their stooges have actually increased their strength at the polls and in parliament by a few percentage points. The victory of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrats was at the expense of the other non-Communist parties. Thus the Italian election has plainly not been a decisive victory. It has been, rather, a successful holding action.

Will the Circus Lose Its Savor?

Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey have adopted special device to remove animal odors from the big top.

Now they can advertise not only the World's Largest Show, but also civilization's biggest Air Wick.

Incidentally, one wonders if there is any chance of them lending it to Philadelphia, for use after the conventions.

Seriously, I guess the Brothers R. and the Messers. B. and B. know their business. But it seems to me theirs will prove an unwelcome innovation. A lot of people, plagued by the city's hurly-burly and filled with a nostalgia for rural stable life, go—not to see—but to smell the circus.

Traditionally, I mean, there has been an aura of glamour about the circus. Can they get rid of the aura and retain the glamour?

A circus without animal odor? Why they might as well take the pits from the lemonade.

Dead Wood Vapor

Dead wood may give off paralyzing rays or a vapor that slows plant growth.

The phenomenon is reported by Drs. Robert L. Weintraub and Leonard Price of the Smithsonian Institution's division of radiation and organisms.

Effect of dried wood on seedlings, they said, appeared to be one of suspended animation. Seeds germinating in the presence of wood virtually stopped growing, yet even after thus inhibited for periods up to five weeks would resume normal growth when removed from its influence, they reported.

They said they first observed the heretofore unreported phenomenon when oat seedlings in a tightly closed wooden box stopped growth completely after the sprouts reached a length of about one millimeter. After transfer to metal or glass containers, however, the seedlings resumed normal rate of growth without apparent injury.

New Order in Making

By Walter Lippmann

OVERWORKED officials, constrained to act in a time of crisis, tend to fall back upon ideas and plans which antedate the emergency and are outdated by it. It is evident, for example, that American military policy antedates the European crisis which, beginning with the coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia, has brought about the momentous agreement to form a military alliance in western Europe. It is no less evident that Secretary Marshall went to Bogota unprepared to meet the fact that the Marshall plan for Europe alters profoundly the older inter-American system, and the basic relations among North America, South America and Europe.

LIPPMANN

In the weeks and months to come we shall find, I venture to think, that we must reconsider and revise not only our strategical doctrine and policy, not only our conception of the western Hemisphere, but also our relations with the British Commonwealth and Empire. For the events which have compelled this country to underwrite the rehabilitation and to guarantee the security of western Europe are in their magnitude and their consequences as great as any since the formation of modern national states. It may well be, indeed it is most probable, that they mark the breakdown of the traditional system of separate national states and the inauguration of a new political society in Europe and in the Americas.

The role of Great Britain in this immense evolution is crucial and extraordinarily difficult. For, as an English friend of mine, who has had much to do with working out the ERP, puts it, the "dilemma" of Great Britain is that "she cannot afford to go into a federation of western Europe if that involves breaking up the British Commonwealth; she cannot afford not to cooperate militarily, financially, politically, economically with France, Benelux, and western Europe."

The British dilemma is real, and unless it can be resolved, Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Harriman for this country, M. Bidault and M. Spaak for the Europeans will find that British collaboration is ambiguous and uncertain. Britain will be bound to avoid the clear decisions and the firm commitment which her partners and allies will call upon her to make.

But the British dilemma is also an American dilemma. For if Britain's entrance into a European federation means the breaking up of the British Commonwealth and Empire, what is to become of the non-European parts of the Commonwealth and Europe? There are some who think they could become parts of an American commonwealth and empire. But this would be a dangerous, perhaps even a disastrous and tragic, outcome.

For the American republic could not, without a revolutionary transformation of all that is most essentially American, become the heir and the successor to the British imperial power. The fearful muddle in which we are already involved as successors to Britain in Greece, Palestine, Iran and the whole Middle East is only a small example of how contrary to our interests, how unsuited to our character and experience, is the role of heir and successor to the British Empire.

Solution

The British dilemma and the American dilemma can be resolved only by the construction of a large political community which includes the British Commonwealth, the inter-American system, and a European federation with its African dependencies and colonies. In this larger community it would be unnecessary for the British to choose between Europe and the Commonwealth. In this community Great Britain and France could at long last become united in peace, not merely allied in war. In this community alone is there hope of solving the German problem, which is becoming progressively more snarled up.

In this community the United States would be insured against the necessity or the temptation to create an American empire on the ruins of the British Empire. In this community the Western Hemisphere would no longer be confronted with the insoluble and disruptive problems so sharply posed at Bogota.

Dire necessity and extreme peril compel us and invite us to undertake the formation of this great Western political society. This is the new order of things which, if the world is not to sink into anarchy and war, will emerge from the chaos of our time. Everywhere men are asking themselves to what high and useful project they may dedicate themselves, in what idea and in what vision of things to come they can find hope. What purpose there can be for the peoples devoted to freedom which is not merely the nervous frightened defense of things as once upon a time they were.

The Once Over

How About a Porcelain Bungalow

The latest wrinkle in put-up-to-take-homes is the porcelain enameled house. It's a production line job and has become an adjunct of the steel industry. Pristine, permanent, fire-proof and repair-proof, it comes F. O. B. for assembly in three days.

The general effect is similar to those modernistic store fronts all white and gleaming which look much like an electric refrigerator magnified a thousand times. You do not have to order one in white and have your bungalow mistaken for an ice cream parlor or corner apothecary shop, however. The enameled residences come in six colors.

PHILLIPS

Your home is stamped out of sheet steel. The enamel is then sprayed on. Nothing can ever happen to the roof, doors or flashings and the producers say there is no maintenance cost whatever. Once up no alterations are possible as this one is put up for keeps.

The men behind the enameled homestead have one great selling point. The house will not be delivered direct to the consumer who will then be driven nuts trying to get it assembled. And it will not be sold through non-builder agents. It can be obtained only through a competent builder whose job will be to get it from freight car to occupancy in a few single uncontested movements.

* * *

A home should be a home, not a jigsaw puzzle.

* * *

Too many buyers of prefabriated homes have discovered that no home should be so involved in its assembly processes that an SOS call has to be sent to Prof. Einstein.

* * *

It will be nice to get one of these production line homes and know that the fellow who puts it up will erect it and not merely reshuffle the various sections and cut for dessert.

* * *

The enamel house costs close to $8,000, which is a lot of moolah to any one who has done any building previous to the last four or five years. For eight grand you used to get a three-story dwelling with fancy veranda, bay windows, a captain's walk and all the filigree your heart desired. They even threw in a barn and summer house. And the builder felt a little embarrassed when he presented the bill.

* * *

Today they build 'em straight, square and low, with minimum protrusions, and only the porch pillars to a customer. If you want curve here and there it zooms you into the $10,000 class.

* * *

But we gotta live, ain't we? Porcelain does not look bad on a kitchen sink. And we don't mind enamel on a tepee unless it chips and we have to go put in gold fillings.

An Old Family Cure

By TRUMAN TWILL

The symptoms of spring fever differ according to the age of the victim.

In the very young they are absent-mindedness and a tendency to fall asleep with the eyes open.

In the very young they are absent-minded, tinuous concentration on the opposite sex, accompanied by complete irresponsibility.

In the middle-aged they are a sense of frustration and a yearning to escape from the cold clutches of reality.

In the old there is an inclination to relive the scenes of childhood in an attempt to revive, if only for a moment, fading memories of things that can be no more.

For all ages the treatment is the same. No one claims there is a positive cure for spring fever. But by following certain rules the affliction can be borne.

Do not fight it. That aggravates the condition. By yielding gracefully to the inevitable, recovery can be speeded up, and the sensation of pain minimized.

Pick a day and a spot. With the day and the spot picked, shuck off all feeling of responsibility and go to the spot. The latter may be any one of a number—the bank of a stream, a grassy dell, a bench in the park.

Once situated in the right spot, let nature take its course. That is the secret of the cure.

Some victims will fall asleep and wake up in due time feeling more refreshed than they have felt for a long time. Others will daydream about the things closest to their hearts and will gradually emerge from it the better for the experience.

Others will look closely at all the wonderful things within their range of vision, as well as a few that are visible only by second sight, and find themselves coming into harmonious adjustment with many circumstances they have been fighting against needlessly.

All will experience a delightful slacking of of unnatural tension and a sense of well-being infinitely greater than anything ever produced by vitamin capsules or artificial stimulants.

They will pluck a blade of tender grass to chew, hum or whistle a few bars from the favorite melody and return to their responsibilities vibrant in flesh and spirit. The cure is inexpensive, easy to take, beneficial to man and beast, and absolutely harmless if used in moderation. Repeated doses, however, may prove habit-forming.

INDUSTRY SURPRISED BY U.S. STEEL'S CUTS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 26—United State Steel corporation's wage and price moves apparently took "the entire industry by surprise," said the magazine Steel today.

"Whether other major steelmakers would adopt a similar policy, both with respect to wages and prices, remains to be seen," it continued.

U. S. Steel announced it had denied wage increase demands and on May 1 would reduce prices on a variety of steel products.

"Strong tone prevails in the steel markets but talk of a likely general advance in prices soon has been stilled, for the moment at least," by the corporation's action, said the trade publication.

Providing the back to work movement continues in the coal mines, steel operations are expected to return to normal in about two weeks, Steel said. It reported the national steelmaking rate rose 2½ points last week to 75½ per cent of capacity.

Steel estimated more than 1,330,000 tons of steel production had been lost because of the coal stoppage, and that several hundred thousand tons more would be lost before normal operations are restored.

Mrs. Eichhorn Assistant Hostess to Farm Club

Mrs. J. P. Eichhorn was assistant hostess when Mrs. Gordon Eichhorn entertained the Pleasant Farm Women's club Thursday afternoon at her home on the Marion-Delaware road. Mrs. Frank Eberl, president, presided for the meeting which opened with devotions by Mrs. Byron Rice and a song, "Rock of Ages," by the group. For roll call, an exchange of flower seeds and bulbs was held.

A contribution of $2 was voted to the Marion county cancer fund campaign. A letter from a family in Europe thanking the club for a box of articles received by them was read by Mrs. Jacob Bolinger.

Mrs. Bolinger, in charge of the program, introduced Mrs. Malcolm Strelitz and Mrs. Charles Sherer who talked on cancer and showed moving pictures on the subject. A quiz program, conducted by Mrs. J. P. Eichhorn, was won by Mrs. Grover Lichtenberger, and guessing boxes went to Mrs. Ralph Hager and Mrs. Lawrence Mautz. The hostesses were assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. V. L. Kyle.

Guests were Mrs. Kyle, Mrs. C. W. DeLong, Susan Eichorn, Charles Groll, Mrs. Strelitz and Mrs. Sherer. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ella Duprey, with Mrs. Mautz serving as assistant hostess.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Joan Corbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Corbin of New Bloomington, to William A. Boblenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Boblenz of near New Bloomington. The double ring ceremony was read Sunday, April 13, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. W. S. Dibert, pastor of the New Bloomington Methodist church. A large basket of gladioli, palms and lighted candles in a seven-branch candelabra formed a setting for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece dress of pale yellow linen with brown accessories and carried a white Bible topped with yellow rosebuds and showered with blue ribbon streamers. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Corbin. She was attired in a pale blue dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Robert Boblenz, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The candles were lighted by Mrs. Donald Corbin, sister-in-law of the bride.

Britain Honors Ruling Couple on Anniversary

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 26 — King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, whose domesticity has endeared them to home-loving Britons, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary today amid empire-wide rejoicing.

As congratulations poured in from far-off dominions, London plunged into the biggest display of royal pageantry since Princess Elizabeth married Philip last November.

From early morning thousands streamed into the capital to watch the royal family drive in state from Buckingham palace to St. Paul's cathedral for a national service of Thanksgiving.

Today's revival of pre-war splendor was a nation's tribute to a king, who with the help of his queen, has made a success of his job.

When they married 25 years ago George was the shy and comparatively little known Duke of York. Elizabeth, as Lady Bowes-lyon, was the first commoner in more than 250 years to marry a prince in direct line of succession to the British throne.

agreed that if there is to be a limited program of this approximate size, the $4,481,000,000 is the program which they support."

House Votes for 70

The house already has voted for a 70-group air force program. The senate subcommittee is holding hearings on a $3,198,000,000 house-passed appropriation bill designed to get the 70-group program under way. Additional millions would have to be voted later to complete it.

Forrestal was among the military leaders who pleaded at a locked door session of another senate body last week for stepped up action on President Truman's whole defense program. It calls for a draft revival, for universal military training and for more money to build up the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"For my responsibility," Forrestal asserted at one point, "I regard every day as critical."

The testimony was given in secret last Wednesday to the armed services committee. It was made public over the weekend after many scissored deletions had been made in the 339-page typewritten transcript.

Bradley Speaks Plainly

In his testimony, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, put into direct words what others have been saying indirectly since President Truman delivered his stop-Russia message to congress on St. Patrick's day:

That the chance of war has increased since the first of the year.

Bradley was being questioned along the lines that fighting seemed remote for five or six years and that in the meantime the emphasis should be on military reserves.

"Up to two or three months ago, we were thinking as you are," the general responded. "We are not so sure of that now, that there is no war right away. * * * so many things have happened, and you cannot put your finger on any one of them."

RAILROADS OVERCHARGED U. S., CONGRESSMAN SAYS

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, April 26 — Chairman George H. Bender of a house investigating committee charged today that the railroads overcharged the government about $300,000,000 on freight hauled during the war.

The Ohio Republican accused the general accounting office of "negligence" in failing to audit freight vouchers completely to protect the government's interests.

He said that as a result of an investigation by his house executives expenditures subcommittee the general accounting office has begun a complete reaudit of the wartime freight vouchers. The money may yet be recovered, at least in part, Bender said.

PREDICTS RAPID RISE IN COAL DEMANDS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 26 — The nation's fuel requirements in the coming decade will cause a rapid increase in the need for coal, Dr. John I. Yellott, told the opening session of the American Mining Congress' coal convention today.

Dr. Yellott, director of research for the locomotive development committee, Baltimore, Md., said the balance between supply and demand for coal, oil and gas no longer exists, and predicted the consumption of petroleum would rise to more than 7,000,000 barrels daily by 1950.

"This makes it apparent, he said, "that any major increases in fuel requirements in the United States must be met in some manner from coal, because the fluid fields are rapidly approaching the point where their use will be restricted to applications, particularly automotive, to which coal is inherently unsuited and for which fluid fuels are virtually essential."

He said three factors make major increases in our fuel requirements inevitable. They were: the deficiency of fluid fuels, the export of more than 40,000,000 tons of U. S. coal to meet Marshall plan requirements in the next 12 months, and the interchangeability from a chemical point of view of coal, oil and gas.

He also predicted coal producers will find industrial and institutional heating requirements will form an increasing part of their market, "but these are customers who can only be retained in the face of competitive fuels, by improvement both in equipment and in coal quality."

NEW ALCATRAZ WARDEN TOUGH

But Though Firm, Edwin B. Swope Can Also Be Gentle; Experienced Man.

By The Associated Press

DENVER, April 26—Any of the desperate convicts at Alcatraz who think they'll find a soft touch in their new warden are in for a shock.

Edwin B. Swope, who takes over the grim rock in San Francisco bay April 30, sounds like a nice fall guy. He looks more like a contented college philosopher than a federal warden.

Swope believes in reform. He looks on prisoners as human beings who deserve a break. But he can be plenty tough.

Since Nov. 1, 1944, he's been handling bad boys—all under 21—as warden of the federal correctional institution near Englewood, a Denver suburb. The boys in the classrooms and dairy barns are like the grim men who are in Alcatraz because they couldn't get along with murderers and thieves at other federal prisons.

Visited Johnston

Swope knows what he's getting into as successor to James A. Johnston who had spent 15 tiring years trying to keep peace at the escape-proof prison. He visited Johnston, a personal friend, at Alcatraz last year.

"It will be different all right," Swope said in an interview.

He looks on the new job as a heavy responsibility but he's taking along some hope of reforming inmates in the toughest federal penitentiary.

"Alcatraz gets all the rotten apples out of the barrel," he said. "If you can get a new seed to grow in one rotten apple, you're on the right track."

Swope restated his belief that corporal punishment has no place in modern prisons, then added, "don't think I'm telling a sob story. I'm supposed to be a pretty tough guy."

His pretty brunette wife Edna, who is moving with him, laughed at this. But she reflects no doubts on his ability to handle the job.

Record in Prison Work

"I think he's the finest warden in the world," she said.

Swope, 59, was born in Santa Fe, N. M. As an active politician he was New Mexico state Democratic chairman, state land commissioner and Bernalillo county treasurer.

While Albuquerque city commissioner in the 1920's, he was revolted at conditions in the city jail. It was then Swope decided to go into prison work. But he waited until he completed a drive to clean up the local jail.

Starting in 1930, Swope was successively warden of the New Mexico penitentiary; the Federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, Wash., and the Federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind. Some prisoners have graduated from these places to Alcatraz. They can testify Swope can be tough if necessary.

LANA AND TOPPING MARRYING TODAY

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, April 26—Lana Turner of the million-dollar figure and Henry J. (Bob) Topping Jr. of the tin-plate millions will merge their fortunes today in a tinseled Hollywood wedding.

The 28-year-old actress and the wealthy sportsman, 34, each will be starting a fourth matrimonial venture. And they'll get off in grand style—with typical filmland trimmings.

The ceremony is scheduled for 2 p. m. in the Bel-Air home of Publisher William R. Wilkerson, the man who first discovered Lana hanging over a soda fountain 11 years ago.

The wedding — described by Lana's studio spokesman as "simple"—will be topped by a champagne reception. The buffet table will gleam with carved ice statuary of the bride and groom, and love birds kissing.

The festive board will groan neath the weight of lobsters flown from Boston and assorted delicacies from New York and Louisiana. Roast pheasant, caviar, smoked salmon, hams, turkeys will also be available to the 75 to 100 guests expected.

After the nuptials and reception, the former Hollywood high school girl who rose to stardom will don part of her $25,000 trousseau and prepare to leave on a New York-London honeymoon, with Palm Springs, Calif. the first stop.

They are scheduled to sail for London May 5, planning to be there for the opening of a midget racing venture which Topping is backing. Their stay in Europe is expected to last several months.

TRAPPIST MIGRATION ENDS. Bearded Trappist monks, migrating from Rhode Island, step off train at Glorietta, N. M. The group are enroute to a new abbey at nearby Valley Ranch. Father Columban (back to camera), abbey superior, greets the party. Others are lay brothers.

PROSPECT CLASSES HOLD BANQUET HERE

Juniors and Seniors in Annual Social Affair.

The Prospect High school annual Junior-Senior banquet was held Saturday night in the ballroom of Hotel Harding with about 50 persons present including students, faculty members, and other special guests.

"The Old Lamplighter" was the theme carried out in the program and in decorations throughout the room. A colorful background was provided for the affair with the junior girls of the group in varicolored formals, and senior girls all in white.

Rev. A. O. Long, pastor of the Prospect Baptist church was guest speaker. In his address to the seniors, Rev. Long told the seniors "to go out and to meet the world bravely."

The program opened with the invocation by Rev. Long. The welcome was given by Thomas Knickle, junior class president, with the response by Ralph Long, senior class president. A vocal duet, "The Old Lamplighter," by Margaret Anson and Thomas Knickle, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Martha Rice, school music supervisor, followed.

Nevin Shuey gave the junior class prophecy, and Eileen Hickok and Wilma June Skinner presented the senior class prophecy in the form of a radio broadcast. The senior will was read by Joanne Kirk. A vocal duet, "Now Is the Hour," by Margaret Anson and Thomas Knickle, and short talks by D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, and V. L. Anderson, superintendent of the Prospect school concluded the program.

Music during the dinner hour was presented by Miss Virginia Grover, pianist.

Special guests included Mr. Mills and Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Long. A program of dancing was the evening's entertainment with music by Bill Carter and his orchestra of Marion.

The senior class colors are blue and gold, the class flower, the yellow rose, and the class motto, "Out of school life—into life's school."

CHARTER PRESENTED

A charter presentation ceremoney was conducted at a meeting of Cub Pack 39, sponsored by Emmanuel Baptist church, Thursday night in the church house. In a handicraft display were shown two neckerchief slides made by two boys from snake skins caught on a recent hike. Twenty-two Cubs and 21 adults were present for the meeting.

TRAINING UNDER WAY FOR HIGHWAY PATROL

Applicants To Be Interviewed at Marion Station.

A contingent of 40 prospective highway patrolmen began an intensive 12-week course of training in mid-March at the opening of the twenty-fifth recruit training school, Colonel George Mingle, state patrol superintendent announced today.

During the next three months patrol officers will examine applicants from time to time at each of the four district headquarters in preparation for the opening of the next training school in June, with the first of these tests to be held this month. The tests will continue until 40 or more men are prepared for the summer session.

Corporal T. B. Morgan, in charge of the Marion Patrol post, will interview at the local patrol post headquarters young men from this vicinity who are interested in the patrol as a career.

Marion county men now active in the Patrol include: Patrolmen S. W. Lucas, M. C. Corbin, G. E. Moore, R. W. Altenberger and R. L. Porter.

Men now attending the patrol school and those accepted for the June session are subject to the Patrol screening process, which includes written examinations, physical tests and a thorough character investigation. Those who successfully complete the training period will be appointed as patrolmen.

Colonel Mingle pointed out that Patrol recruits in training, as well as patrolmen on duty, are furnished uniforms and equipment by the state, in addition to regular salary.

U.S. Military Police Arrest Many in Korea

By The Associated Press

KOBE, Japan, April 26—U. S. military police arrested hundreds of Koreans today as an aftermath to weekend riots — outbreaks quelled by American troops when civil law broke down.

Involving more than 8,000 Koreans here and at nearby Osaka, it was the first major outbreak in Japan since the beginning of the occupation in the fall of 1945. One official called it a "minor emergency."

Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commanding general of the U. S. Eighth Army, rushed here from his Yokohama headquarters to investigate personally. He promised stern punishment of the leaders.

About 800 Koreans were in custody.

No Americans were hurt, but at least 32 Koreans and Japanese were injured.

It was quiet in Kobe today.

EISENHOWER CITES "STUPIDITY" DANGER

By The Associated Press

WICHITA, Kas., April 26—General Dwight D. Eisenhower says the danger today is "that some stupid act may start a war—a stupid act that puts some nation in a position from which it feels it cannot withdraw."

He declared the danger lies in one dictatorship promoting its own future "through chaos, hysteria, fear and starvation." Others in desperation then may resort to arms, he added.

Eisenhower spoke yesterday at the Kansas Junior Chamber of Commerce state convention.

During a question and answer session, E. J. Smith of Wichita said from the audience: "No one has the confidence of this nation that you have" and "what they (the American people) want is that you represent us."

An ovation followed. Eisenhower, noticeably affected, said no man could hear such words without being deeply moved. He added that with each citizen "the welfare of this country must be first. Everyone must do his part. Whatever I do, you can be sure that will be uppermost in my mind."

Earlier Eisenhower had reiterated that his letter of last Jan. 1, in which he informed New Hampshire Republicans he did not aspire to the presidency, was final.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS CALL OFF STRIKE

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 26—The CIO United Electrical Workers ratified four management proposals and cancelled a strike of nearly 4,000 members slated to start today at the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Local 1581 voted yesterday to accept proposals to eliminate "downgrading" of maintenance employes because of outside contract work, to end the employe incentive system, to reclassify the labor grades of about 350 men and to guarantee an eight-hour day aimed at stopping "down time" owing to mechanical breakdowns or material shortages.

Electric motors and industrial controlling systems are manufactured at the suburban Cheektowaga plant.

A walkout last Friday of about 1,200 of 2,600 day shift employes was called by a union official an unauthorized demonstration over a delay in settling local complaints. The company did not comment.

The local also voted yesterday to support national wage talks between the UE and Westinghouse with the local's strike vote of a week ago. The talks are in an indefinite recess. The UE seeks a "substantial wage increase" from Westinghouse.

MARK HANNA III HELD LIABLE ON CHECK CHARGE

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 26—Mark A. Hanna III has been found sane and mentally able to answer a federal charge of forging two checks totaling $60,000.

Meyer Memorial hospital authorities made the report Saturday after completion of a medical and psychiatric examination. Hanna was hospitalized April 12 under an order signed by Federal Judge John Knight.

Assistant U.S. District Attorney Henry W. Killeen Jr., who requested the test, said Hanna will be released from the hospital today. He will be returned to the Erie county jail pending federal court arraignment.

Hanna pleaded guilty to an earlier indictment. It was ruled invalid, however, because an extra man sat on the jury for five days. The juror said he was misdirected to the federal grand jury room.

Hanna, a 39-year-old member of a well known Cleveland, O., family, also faces a state sentence on his plea of guilty to an Erie county indictment charging larceny and forgery.

It has been estimated that gambling machines took more American money in depression 1933 than in prosperous 1929.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 26—Bullish forces found the going rough in today's stock market.

Many of the leaders of last week's fast rallies backed away from their highs of the year. Price changes generally were limited to narrow fractions, however, as trading subsided to a more leisurely pace.

Lacking the stimulus of prime weekend news developments, the market appeared to be ready for a breathing spell, after the recent sharp upward rush. Continued moderate profit-taking and some switching of accounts blocked any decided trend and held gains to a selective basis.

Sagging at times were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Standard Oil (N.J.), Sinclair Oil, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Air Reduction, General Motors and Anaconda Copper. Reaching higher ground were some of the aircrafts and air transports, including United Aircraft, Transcontinental & Western Air and American Airlines. Other gains were registered by Du Pont, American Can, Twentieth Century-Fox and Goodyear.

Marion Cubs Beat Newark Yankees, 6 to 5 for Second Exhibition W

Pitcher Nick Alivojvodick's Wildness a Thing of Past

By BILL DIEM

Fastballer Nick Alivojvodick showed at Newark yesterday that he has left behind the extreme wildness that marked his pitching last season with the Marion Cubs and if the 22-year-old righthander continues to improve as the season advances you can look to one of the Ohio-Indiana league's topnotch pitchers in the East Chicago, Ill., lad.

He blanked the Newark Yankees in the four innings he pitched yesterday, striking out six Yankee batters in the last four innings to preserve the one-run lead the Cubs enjoyed when he went in.

Lou Ferraro, another in a large group of Cub moundsmen with a lot in prospect, was credited with the Cubs' 6 to 5 win. The 19-year-old Racine, Wis., righthander allowed four hits, but only one run in the three innings he pitched.

Cubs' Second Win

It was the Cubs' second exhibition win in three games, and the day was perfect for baseball.

Starting Marion pitcher, Tom (Gorilla) Jones, allowed three hits and four runs (two of them unearned) in the two innings he hurled.

At bat, the Cubs showed about the same strength that has marked their play in two previous exhibition encounters. They were outhit, nine to seven. They continued to match their hits with errors, too, being charged with six.

In their first game with Newark, the Cubs collected seven hits, made seven errors, but won, 9 to 5; against Lima they made eight hits, eight errors and lost 11 to 8. A return game with Lima scheduled Saturday was rained out.

Fielding Improved

But the Cub fielders yesterday nevertheless showed improvement, making three double plays.

Managers Zeke Bekeza of the Cubs and Bob Dill of the Yanks wielded the big sticks. Zeke rapped out three for five, including a double, and Dill gave the 800 home fans a treat by pounding out a triple and a double in two trips to the plate.

Cub leadoff batter, speedy Gerald Peters, drew three walks and scored three runs.

He opened the first inning with a walk, advanced to third on Bekeza's single and came home when Bill Bolduc hit into an infield putout.

Gorilla Jones set the Yanks down in order in the first, but they got to him in the second for four runs off three hits and an error.

Walks Again

Peters again opened the third inning with a walk, Tom Neeley got on when hit by a pitched ball, and Bekeza doubled them home. Zeke moved to third when Bolduc grounded out to deep short, and arrived home safely when Bohlander sent a slow one to the pitcher who didn't make the play at home in time. Bohlander went to second when Bob Allen walked and crossed the home plate when Vilo Tutero pounded one that rolled through the shortstop's legs.

Peters opened the fourth inning with a walk, reached third when Bekeza singled, and reached home when Bohlander turned a sacrifice into a base hit.

The Yanks scored again in their half of the fourth when Bob Thomas singled and came home on Frank Santora's triple.

By midnight tonight, the Ohio-Indiana league teams will have to be trimmed down to 20 players in preparation for the opener tomorrow. That means Cub Manager Bekeza will have to cut off seven players.

By The Associated Press

Springfield, Oak Harbor Still OWU Relay Champs

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., April 26—It's still Springfield against the field in 1948 Ohio high school track.

The well-balanced Wildcats cake-walked to the Ohio Wesleyan Relays title Saturday, and for the second straight week nearly doubled the point total of Cleveland Central's defending state champs.

Springfield, repeating its 1947 triumph here, took the class A championship with 31 points to 21 for Cleveland East Tech and 16 for Cleveland Central and Columbus Central.

The week before Coach Ronnie Ronemus' Wildcats grabbed the Mansfield relays title. In each case, Springfield bested a star-studded field by showing overall team strength.

Salem Oak Harbor, defending champion here in class B competition, also won Saturday. It scored 29½ points. Lakeside had 18, Columbus University 17.

Sets 2 Records

Springfield swept the field events, setting two meet records in the process, and added a fifth in the medley relay. Springfield's 142 foot 1¾ inch total in the shotput eclipsed the 140 foot 3¾ inch mark set by Columbus North last year. The Wildcats' 64 foot 1¾ inch total in the broad jump also topped the 63 foot 10¼ inch record set in 1936 by Cleveland John Adams.

Oak Harbor also set two meet records, winning the medley in 8:07.5 compared to their 8:11.8 in 1947) and the mile in 3:36.6 (3.6 seconds under New London's record, set in 1946).

Most of the meet was run in perfect weather, but a sudden rainstorm slowed the two-mile and 880-yard relays. How they finished:

CLASS A—Springfield 31, Cleveland East Tech 21, Cleveland Central and Columbus Central, both 16, Cleveland West Tech 13½, Cleveland John Marshall 10, Cleveland Benedictine and Dayton Dunbar, both 9; Mentor 8, Cleveland Collinwood and Columbus North, both 6; Cleveland Euclid Shore 4½, Lima Central and Columbus West, both 4; Toledo Scott 3½; Cincinnati Hughes 3, Upper Arlington, Findlay and Upper Sandusky, all 2; Cincinnati Central 1½, Chillicothe, Columbus East, Dayton Fairview and Dayton Wilbur Wright, all 1.

RACERS POINT FOR GOLDEN WEST PACE

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 26—Harness racers took a rest today at Santa Anita but the Grand Circuit meetings will resume tomorrow and build up to a $50,000 climax Saturday.

The Fifty-grander—the Golden West Pace at a mile and a quarter—appears likely to attract 20 entries from among 57 pacers nominated last January 20.

Dr. Stanton, owned by Donald L. Wilson of Detroit, and Jimmy Creed, owned by S. C. Thompson of New Ross, Ind., established themselves as top choices by victories last Saturday.

Dr. Stanton won his 35th race in 43 starts by capturing one section of the San Diego free-for-all-pace at a mile and one-eighth in 2 minutes, 17.2 seconds.

Jimmy Creed emerged winner in his division by traveling the same distance in 2 minutes, 18 seconds.

Slugging Tribe Sweeps Series

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 26—Having battered Detroit's "best pitching in the league" for three straight victories, the undefeated Cleveland Indians wielded their war clubs in Comiskey Park today in seirch of their fifth straight win.

The Indians ignored the Detroit hurlers' press clippings for the third consecutive day yesterday and rapped the offerings of southpaw Hal Newhouser to all corners of Briggs stadium for a 7-4 victory.

Ken Keltner

Ken Keltner sparked the Tribe attack, clouting two homers for the second time in the series and duplicating his feat of last Friday by again driving in four runs.

The veteran Cleveland third baseman, who has become a "pull" hitter into left field and the stands this year, started scoring with a circuit clout off Newhouser's slants in the second.

Keltner unloaded his three-run blast into the left field seats to deadlock the count in the fourth after Eddie Mayo's clout with two on gave Newhouser a brief lead.

After the Indians moved ahead to stay in the sixth, Eddie Robinson completed the scoring in the eighth with his first home run.

Hank Sauer Hits 3 Homers As Reds Split Double Bill

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 26—Hank Sauer, the slugging Redleg outfielder who clubbed three homers in one day to take the National home run lead, and his Cincinnati teammates rested today.

The break came at the end of an eight-game week that saw the Reds at the .500 mark.

Three of their victories were over the Pittsburgh Pirates and one over St. Louis. In yesterday's home-run studded doubleheader, the Reds took the opener 7-6 and the Pirates the nightcap 13-10.

Sauer broke a tie in the first game and gave Cincinnati a 7-6 victory as he smashed a 400-foot drive over the fence in the ninth frame.

He came up in the first of the nightcap with Johnny Wyrostek and Grady Hatton on base and slugged the ball over the fence at the 381-foot mark in left field. He made his swing at the cripple after the count was worked to three balls and no strikes.

Sauer got his next homer in the nightcap eighth after Hatton had walked.

Big Ted Kluszewski stepped into the homerun column too. He hit a three-run blow in the nightcap fifth, giving the Reds back a lead they lost when Pirate Wally Westlake connected for a grand-slam homer in the third.

Al Stevens, the Pirate first baseman, opened the homerun fireworks early in the first game. He hit a high one over the centerfield fence at the start of the sixth.

Fourteen pitchers saw action, and kept the scorekeepers busy. In the first game Bucky Walters and fireman Harry Gumbert held the Pirates. But five Red hurlers couldn't do it in the nightcap.

Max West tied a National league record when he received five walks in the nightcap. The

PAUL GRAY HOFFMAN, born April 26, 1891, in Chicago, has one of the world's most important jobs as Economic Cooperation Administrator in charge of the European Recovery Program. One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

News that whisky can be made from sawdust has shocked the Carpenters' union. . . . They've been throwing it away for years.

* * *

I hear the next contract will cover wages, hours and disposition of top-grade shavings.

* * *

And I saw an ad today "Cabinet maker wanted. . . . Steady work, good wages, no idlers or sawdusters need apply."

* * *

But it was time for a change and the next "man of distinction" will be pictured leaning on a cross-cut saw.

* * *

However I don't think there's any truth to the rumor that the drys will picket woodpeckers.

* * *

But I wouldn't advise any man to come home late with the alibi that he's just been hanging around the lumber yard.

The word "epigram" originally meant simply an inscription but now connotes a pithy statement in prose or verse.
